National Farm School, December, 1902. No. Example. We scatter seed with careless hand, And dream we ne er shall see them more; But tor a thousand years Their fruit appears, In weeds that mar the land, Or healthful store. The deeds we do, the words we say, Into still air they seem to fleet. We count them ever past, But they shall last; In the dread judgment they And we shall meet! I charge thee by the years gone by, For the loves sake of brethren dear, Keep thou the one true way, In work and play, Lest in that world their cry Of woe thou hear. Selected. The Haunted House. Edwin Weatherfield needed rest and he made up his mind to have it. The gigantic deal which he had now completed had wearied him both mentally and physically. No, not a tour to Europe! He had seen enough of it. He would pay a visit to B. Ah, B! What a host of memories sprung up before him! There was the scene of his greatest sorrow and of his most exquisite joy. There was the place where he pledged his troth and won his bride. There it was where he lasted for the first and only time the bliss of married life. And now of what avail were his vast possessions, his costly treasures, his army of servants? The world might think him happy, living as he did in luxury, ease and comfort, but what did the world know? In the eyes of the world he might appear a careless bachelor, who was not as yet affected by...
